Campaign for a Global Curriculum of Social Solidarity Economy

It is an initiative of networks, social organizations, social movements, universities, schools and other institutions, which seek to join, at a global level, the counterhegemonic educational struggle in face of the capitalist economic system.
What are the objectives

Articulate a pedagogy of the ‘other economies’ which exists in the five continents and is embedded in curricula, didactic proposals, knowledge, epistemologies, methodologies, sciences, learning-teaching and practices of formal, nonformal and informal education; it is developed in schools, universities, social movements, cooperatives, unions, associations, indigenous, Afro-descendant, peasant communities in the construction of a fair, sustainable, non-capitalist economy.

Foster dialogue among the most diverse kinds of knowledge, circulating in territories of urban and rural areas - scientific, humanistic, popular, traditional-; rescuing the basic principles of popular education and historical educational experiences from the social solidarity economy movement; also strengthening the global citizenship’s movement of transition for a planetary civilization, based on the values of “Good Living” (Bien Vivir), solidarity and respect for Mother Nature (Pachamama).
